

LOGISTICS SERVICES MEMBER OF THE YEAR

Competition is fierce and business life can be tough. Adapting to change is key and the ability to stay current in the eyes of your customers, principals and employees is crucial to seeing growth and loyalty with your business

Over recent years businesses have had to contend with several exceptional challenges, rising costs, world conflicts & supply chain issues to name a few. During this time, you will have all experienced successes, failures and a whole lot of learning. We want to hear about pivotal moments that have shaped the landscape of your business today. It's time to look back (pre-Brexit and Covid if necessary) and see how far you've come and celebrate how hard your team have worked

As the voice of the chemical supply chain, CBA is looking to recognise our Logistics Services Members who have demonstrated industry leadership, innovation and excellence. It doesn't matter what size of company you represent, what matters is that you can demonstrate how far you have come

This might relate to a specific initiative or project in employment and training, environment, customer care, technology, operational efficiency, innovation, health and safety or something completely different, working either independently or as part of a partnership. Whatever you choose, it will be something that has generated exceptional results, impact and is truly class leading.
